

Copyright Infringement Notice

All users of LSU's Pennington Biomedical Research Center computing and network resources are required to abide by and comply with all state and federal laws governing copyrights and trademarks as well as other applicable policies and mandates of Louisiana State University and the laws and regulations of the State of Louisiana.

The use of copyrighted material may require the permission of the copyright owner. The absence of a copyright notice or symbol on a work does not mean it is not copyrighted. Copyrighted works can include, but are not limited to, text, graphics, music, and photographs. Permission to use any Pennington Biomedical or LSU copyrighted materials or trademarks for commercial purposes or unofficial University purposes must be approved in writing by an authorized representative of Pennington Biomedical. Please contact the Director of Intellectual Property and Technology Transfer for more information.

Reporting Possible Copyright Infringements

The designated agent for the receiving of alleged copyright infringement is:

Director of Computing Services / CIO

For "willful" infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys' fees. For detail, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505.
